RISK AND REWARD PROFILE (SRRI)

Lower risk, typically lower reward Higher risk, typically higher reward

Risks not taken into account in the indicator :

Credit risk: In the event of a deterioration in the quality of the issuers or if the issuer is no longer able to meet its maturities, the value of these securities may fall, thus causing the net asset value to fall.

Risks related to the impact of techniques such as derivatives: The use of derivatives may lead to significant short-term fluctuations in the value of the derivatives and the net asset value in the event of opposing market trends.

Counterparty risk: This risk is linked to the conclusion of contracts on financial futures and the conclusion of temporary acquisitions and sales of securities. It represents the risk of default by a market participant preventing it from honoring its commitments vis-à-vis the UCITS for example (payment, reimbursement, non-delivery). The occurrence of any of these risks may have a negative impact on the net asset value of the UCITS.

Liquidity risk: In the particular case where the exchange volumes on the financial markets are very low, any purchase or sale transaction on the latter may cause significant variations in the market.

No capital guarantee.

PERFORMANCE COMMENTARY

In a highly disrupted global financial environment, where major economies grow less quickly than expected, central banks rate hikes anticipations have completely disappeared and these central banks have even lowered their rates.

In order to deal with the global economy's slowdown caused by the spread of the COVID-19 virus, exceptional measures have been taken with the raise of the asset purchase program from 20 to 120 billion euros per month and the announce of an additional 750 billion euros program until the end of the year.

Investors' concern about the virus spread has led to an important raise for all the corporate spreads since February. Consequently, in March, the fund (C share) posted a flat performance of -5.878% against -0.955% for the reference indicator. In 2020, the fund (C share) posted a flat performance of -5.978% against -0.367% for the reference indicator.
